

Harvest Roles

Harvest Cellar Worker

We embrace an environment dedicated to high-end winemaking. This is an excellent opportunity to work with various varietals at an ultra-premium winery. Duties include assisting with all cellar activities including wine movements, crushing, racking, blending, and bottling. Cellar Workers are responsible for sanitation in all areas of cellar operations including tanks, floors, fittings, and all other equipment. Positions typically last about four months, between August and November.

Harvest Lab Technician/Cellar

Initially, under close supervision, this laboratory portion of this position will be responsible for the analysis and sample prep associated with fermentation monitoring and grape maturity tracking. As experience is gained, duties will become more diversified and will come to include other analytical lab tasks. In the cellar, duties will include equipment sanitation, pump overs, and wine movements including barrel filling and racking. Positions typically run between mid-August and mid-December.

Seasonal Viticulture Intern

The Seasonal Viticulture Intern for HALL Family of Wines is an integral member of the Vineyard Team for the growing and harvest seasons. This individual is responsible for many of the essential activities performed during the growing season that yield the high-quality fruit at harvest for our ultra-premium wine production. The Viticulture Intern primarily assists both the Viticulturist and Grower Representative to collect scouting data and water stress measurements, perform crop estimations, and maturity sampling at harvest. The position will be approximately May-November

Winemaking Intern

We are seeking a Winemaking Assistant for the 2020 harvest with the leadership and winemaking experience necessary to work with our team in ensuring the highest winemaking standards are being met. This is an excellent opportunity for individuals interested in ultra-premium winemaking at a state-of-the-art, family-owned winery. Positions typically run between mid-August and late December.

Compensation & Benefits:

- Competitive hourly rate & paid sick leave

About HALL Family Wines:
