Winter 2015 Travel Study Program

Kathmandu and Annapurna Mountain Range (Himalaya), Nepal International Travel Study

December 27, 2014 – January 11, 2015
GEOG 177T (3 units)
$2,900

The study abroad course will take students to the interior of the third pole, the Nepalese Himalayas, to learn about cultural landscape and environmental change. Enrollees in the course will spend a few days in Kathmandu Valley known for its historic sites, ancient temples, religious shrines, and captivating villages. Course activities include tour of the primeval city of Bhaktapur and Kathmandu Durbar Square and visit to the prehistoric city of Patan. Students will travel to the picturesque town of Pokhara and trek through Nepal’s largest protected range, Annapurna Conservation Area, where they will have rare opportunity to interact with ethnic Gurung community in a world famous Ghandruk village nestled at the foot of Dhaulagiri and Annapurna Himalayan peaks. The study will conclude with a field tour of deep gorges, magnificent lakes, and stunning view of the Himalayas from Pokhara and presentations by students in Kathmandu.
